PRINCE PAYS VISIT TO THE NAVAL ACADEMY.

American Cadets on Parade Before the Royal Visitor—Storm Did Not Keep Henry in House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A driving rain did not deter Prince Henry from going to Annapolis today to visit the United States Naval Academy. At 9 o'clock, when the Prince came to the door of the German Embassy, the air was white with mist and rain.

Some of the Prince's party sought to dissuade him from making the trip but like a true sailor man he paid no heed to the elements. The usual cavalry was dispensed with today and only the detail of mounted police officers and a squad accompanied the party. The guard of honor continued on, however, their guns and great coats dripping with the deluge.

PURELY A NAVAL TRIP.

Prince Henry was accompanied by Adjutant Von Elsendener. But as this was purely a naval trip, the German Ambassador and the civil members of the Embassy staff did not accompany the party. Prince Henry wore the uniform of an Admiral of the German navy with a heavy naval cape thrown over his shoulder and the naval service cap. With him in the carriage rode General Corbin and Commander Cowles, naval aide to President Roosevelt.

In the first carriage were General Saenger, Assistant Secretary of War and Adjutant Von Elsendener. The party was joined at the depot by a number of the naval and military officers of the Prince's suite and of the German Embassy.

LEAVES FOR ANNAPOLIS.

The Prince and suite, with the President's delegates, left at 9:10 o'clock for Annapolis. In the party were Secretary Long, Senator Pate of Maine, chairman of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs, Representative Ross of Illinois, chairman of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, Assistant Secretary of State Pierce, Admiral Lowell, Endicott, Kenny, O'Neill, and Bradford, Commander Cowles, Captain Sigbee and Captain Lemly, General Haywood of the Marine Corps and Chief Wilkie of the Secret Service. Admiral Leana did not accompany the party owing to a lame knee.

PRINCE IN RAIN.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 25.—Deluged rain that was whipped around by wind marked the visit of Prince Henry to Maryland's Capital and the United States Naval Academy. It fell in increasing torrents that ran through streets in military ranks, and converted the parade ground at the academy into a bay. But the naval men and their brother officers of the German party seemed surrender to the rain and with all their military livery went through the program that had been arranged in their honor. The train bearing Prince Henry made a slow run from Washington. During the trip Secretary Long, to whom the car "Victoria" was assigned, went to the car "Victoria" and called upon the Prince. Later the party of officers and naval officers were presented and Senator Hale and Mr. Ross called their respects. The Prince greeted them all very cordially.

GUARDING THE STREET.

When the train reached Annapolis station it was out in two and the crowd of officers, including the "Victoria," were backed into the depot. Out in the street around the depot a guard of honor was in rain that carried the color from their uniforms as it streamed from them. Inside the depot grounds two lines of police marched past in review. There was little shelter from the rain in the stand, but the Prince faced the rain and stood until the line of officers was really out of sight. The Prince was really out of sight. The Prince was really out of sight.

CADETS IN LINE.

Local militiamen lined the streets from the depot line down to the new grounds site at the academy, and despite the driving storm hundreds of persons were out to see the distinguished visitor. As the carriage of the Prince reached the grounds the first cannon of a salute of twenty-one guns sounded. The Prince was driven to a canvas covered stand on the west end of the grounds and the cadets marched past in review. There was little shelter from the rain in the stand, but the Prince faced the rain and stood until the line of officers was really out of sight. The Prince was really out of sight.

The general inspection was made brief on account of the storm, and the entire party went to the house of the Superintendent, where the Prince and suite were guests at luncheon. Mrs. Wainwright assisted her husband in receiving the guests. The Prince and suite were guests at luncheon. Mrs. Wainwright assisted her husband in receiving the guests. The Prince and suite were guests at luncheon. Mrs. Wainwright assisted her husband in receiving the guests.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon a powerful glass was directed toward the train leading up to the Liberty Bell. Squads of miners carrying bodies of their unfortunate fellow laborers could be seen coming down.

SOME OF THE KILLED.

Following is a list of the dead whose

MAN WITH MASK GRABS MRS. PALMER BY THROAT

Woman Gives Her Assailant a Hard Battle and Makes Her Escape.

Mrs. J. T. Palmer, wife of Professor Palmer, the musician, had a desperate midnight encounter with a masked man last night at the entrance of her home at 172 Eighth street.

Twice he clutched her by the throat and twice, after fighting desperately, she managed to free herself, and the second time she ran screaming down the street until she met Patrolman Brown more than a block away. The policeman hurried back with Mrs. Palmer to her home, but her assailant had made good his escape.

Mrs. Palmer was so excited that she could give no accurate description of her assailant, but she says he was a tall man and that his face was covered by a black mask.

Mrs. Palmer and her husband had attended the concert given by the Philharmonic Society at Hamilton Hall.

After the concert Professor Palmer put his wife on an Eighth street car, which stops at their door. He did not accompany her, but went with Samuel Siegel to a banquet at the Hotel Metropole.

When Mrs. Palmer reached her home she started up the front steps, but the unknown man jumped from behind a creeping vine beside the steps and grabbed her.

She fought desperately and finally freed herself.

As she started to run he caught her again and another struggle ensued. It was several seconds before she made her escape and fled. Her assailant did not attempt to follow her the second time.

During the second struggle a club dropped from the man's pocket, and when the policeman arrived upon the scene he found several burnt matches on the sidewalk, showing that the man had coolly tried to find the club in the dark after Mrs. Palmer had escaped.

The assault has been reported to the police, who are making a quiet investigation.

JUDGE ELLSWORTH PROMISES TO MAKE IT WARM FOR EX-PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR STANLEY.

James A. Stanley, ex-Public Administrator, admitted today in the presence of Judge Ellsworth in the Probate Court that for the last five years, he has been using in his private business $2,400 belonging to the estate of William Leslie who died December 31, 1894. He also admitted that he did not now have the money available to repay the sum thus appropriated which had not been on interest since it was taken from the bank where he had deposited it as administrator of the estate in question.

QUESTIONS BY COURT.

This showing is made in response to a series of close questions by the court when the matter of a final settlement of the case came up before it. This final settlement was ordered some time ago at which Judge Ellsworth ordered Stanley to turn over to the County Treasurer the money which he had in hands belonging to the Leslie estate.

Leslie left an estate with cash in the sum of $25,751.91. Of this amount, $127 was expended, leaving a balance of $2,400, for which Stanley is now required to account.

Stanley, however, stated that while he could not produce the money at this moment, yet it was coming to him as payment for a contract which he would be due tomorrow.

Judge Ellsworth said that he wanted to give the case some more consideration and that he would continue the case until one week from next Monday.

NO MONEY IN BANK.

"You have no money now in bank, have you as Public Administrator, Mr. Stanley?" said Judge Ellsworth.

"No."

"When did you take it out?"

"I cleared up the accounts as Public Administrator about a year and a half ago."

"Since then, you have had no money as administrator in any bank?"

"No."

"Have you any individual account in any bank?"

"I have had an individual account in the Mechanics and Merchants Bank and in the Bank of the County."

Attorney De Golla, who appeared for Stanley, said that they would admit that Stanley in question had not been on interest.

"What other banks did you have a deposit in?" asked Judge Ellsworth.

"I have had a deposit in the Bank of San Leandro and I have deposited money in banks where I have been doing business."

"Have you any money now in the Central Bank?"

"No."

WHERE IS THE MONEY?

"Where is the money of the Leslie estate now?"

"Mr. Stanley was silent for a number of seconds, and finally Judge Ellsworth asked:

"Have you got it at all, and if so, where is it?"

"There was more silence and again the Court questioned:

"I ask where the money is now."

"I don't know that I can tell just where it is now."

"If you have got it you ought to be able to answer the question and tell where it is."

"You want to know where it is?" queried Stanley.

"Yes," replied the court. "I want to know where it is."

Attorney De Golla objected to the answer on the ground of incompetency and immateriality.

The objection was overruled.

"I can state," said Stanley, "because my money is in various forms and places."

"Have you got money anywhere?"

"I have money in various places when I am doing business there. This money is coming to me in what is owing to me and which will be due and payable tomorrow."

"You mean that it is in a debt that is owing to you?"

"The money that is due me will be paid tomorrow. It is a balance on a contract which I have made with a contractor."

"You say that you haven't the amount, but that it is owing you on a contract?"

"Yes, sir."

"You haven't it in any other form?"

"I haven't."

"How much money have you in bank?"

M. J. LAYMANCE FILES AN ANSWER TO DONOHUE'S SUIT.

This morning the answer of M. J. Laymance, Mrs. M. J. Laymance, J. M. Merrill, J. T. Hamilton, William Laymance, Walter Laymance and Joseph Laymance, representing the Grant and Standard Oil Companies, was filed to the complaint of Peter B. Donohue, who seeks for an accounting, which claim the defendants deny.

A specific denial is made that M. J. Laymance ever entered into an agreement of co-partnership or any agreement at all for the purpose of purchasing, leasing, selling or otherwise operating or controlling for gain or otherwise the oil-bearing lands controlled by the defendants.

It is also denied that any firm or partnership was formed by Donohue and M. J. Laymance and that any such relation ever existed between them.

It is also denied that Donohue fully or at all performed any or any of the terms and conditions of any alleged partnership agreement required to be performed by him. They also deny that the plaintiff during the month of May, 1899, or at any other time, examined all or any of the lands mentioned in his complaint, or found them to be of great or any value. They further deny that Donohue, during the month in question opened negotiations with C. J. Berry, W. J. Berry, W. M. Spencer, F. L. Keller, W. J. Roberts, Fred C. Berry, and Milton McWhorter or any one or more of those persons, for the purchase or control of their interests in the lands referred to and that he selected or segregated any portion of them in behalf of the said M. J.

Laymance or for any of the defendants. It is also denied that through the efforts of Donohue, these lands were sold to the California Standard Oil Company or to the Grant Oil Company. It is also repudiated that Donohue had anything to do with the sale of these lands to the companies mentioned, or that they or either of them were financed by M. J. Laymance for the purpose of acquiring the lands mentioned in the complaint of the plaintiff in any respect. Denial is also made that the lands in question were purchased with the consent of Donohue and that Laymance received from the companies in question large amounts of stock because of the alleged agreement with Donohue.

In another clause, it is denied that M. J. Laymance caused to be transferred to defendants a large amount of stock issued to him as a consequence of the alleged agreement with Donohue for the purpose of depriving the plaintiff of his alleged interest in them. This denial is coupled with the allegation that Donohue never had any right, title or interest in the stock in question, as also that Laymance or any of the co-defendants conspired to defraud the plaintiff of his alleged rights in the premises. Denial is also made that the defendants are threatening to sell the stock, and they state that they should sell such stock if it would not do damage to Donohue's interest in it.

The answer, however, admits that M. J. Laymance has refused to account to plaintiff for any of the said stock but deny that Laymance ever received as assets of the illegal co-partnership on behalf or for the account of Donohue 100,000 shares or any shares of the corporations in question.

The defendants ask for the dismissal of the case with costs.

AWFUL CATASTROPHE IN THE TELLURIDE, COL. MINING REGION

TELLURIDE, Colo., Feb. 28.—The mine, buildings and bunkhouse of the Liberty Bell mine were completely buried under an avalanche of snow and swept the gulches hundreds of feet below at 8:30 o'clock. It is impossible at this hour (12 o'clock) to be able to ascertain the number of lives lost, but it is estimated to be anywhere from ten to sixty or seventy.

The bunkhouse, which was crushed like an egg shell by the steep mountain side, was crowded with miners at the fatal moment.

A few of these managed, by almost superhuman efforts, to extricate themselves from among the broken timbers and dig their way out of the snow.

Many, however, who were not killed outright, were maimed into a state of helplessness and carried down in the awful maelstrom of debris, snow, earth and ice, to a horrible death in the gulches below.

carried down the mountain sides upon the shoulders of those who escaped to the morgue at Telluride.

The train which have already been identified. They are:

Fred Clemmons, boarding house keeper.

Charles Hall, a well-known miner.

Communication with the mines is entirely shut off and until the messengers who were hastily sent to the mine upon receipt of the first news of the accident return, the full details of the awful catastrophe will not be known.

The trail leading to the Liberty Bell mine is fully three miles long and is one of the most difficult to ascend in the entire San Juan country. Especially hard is the trail to climb at this season of the year, when the snow is deep and the weather severely cold.

CENSURE IS GIVEN TO THE TWO SENATORS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections today agreed to report a resolution of censure in the cases of Senators Tillman and McLaurin.

Three Republicans, Pritchard, McComas and Beveridge voted against it.

SENTENCE OF THE SENATE.

As soon as the Journal was approved in the Senate today Mr. Burrows presented the resolution of censure upon Senators Tillman and McLaurin.

The following is the full text of the resolution recommended by the Committee:

"That it is the judgment of the Senate that the Senators from South Carolina, Benjamin R. Tillman and John L. McLaurin, for disorderly behavior and flagrant violation of the rules of the Senate during the open session of the Senate on the 22nd day of February, 1902, and they are hereby censured for their breach of the privileges and dignity of this body; and from and after the adoption of this resolution the order adjudging them in contempt of the Senate shall be no longer in force and effect."

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

The report of the committee read in the Senate says that the offense of Tillman was much greater than that of McLaurin.

Mr. Bailey presented a report of the Democrats agreeing to the resolution, but dissenting from the majority that there was a difference in the gravity of the offense. They also disagreed with the views of the majority that a Senator might be suspended.

The report of the three dissenting Republicans submitted by Mr. McComas asserted that the offenses of the South Carolina Senators were unequal and the punishment should not be the same. The minority report favored suspension of Tillman for five days and of Tillman for twenty days.

Mr. Pritchard did not concur with Mr. McComas and Beveridge as to the infliction of punishment on McLaurin and asserted that he had already been sufficiently punished.

CENSURE IS GIVEN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Mr. McLaurin of Mississippi asked to be excused from voting on account of kinship with McLaurin of South Carolina. The latter declined to vote. Tillman also declined to vote, saying that "among gentlemen apology for offenses committed in the heat of blood was sufficient."

Mr. Keam, who voted in the affirmative, said that in view of the remark of Mr. Tillman he would change his vote.

When the result of the vote was announced Mr. Burrows demanded that Mr. Tillman's words be taken down. When the words were read Mr. Tillman said that he did not intend that his words be drawn from him.

"Without objection," said President Pro Tem Frye, "they will be withdrawn."

Mr. Keam, but in the conference he evidently was not heard. Mr. Hoar presented an additional resolution for the prevention of such occurrences in the future, which was referred. The conference on the Consular bill was then taken up.

The Senate agreed to the conference report on the Consular bill.

THE VOTING.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The roll was called on the adoption of the report of the majority of the Committee on Privileges and Elections. Senators Beveridge, Clark of Wyoming, DeLoe, Dietrich, Foster of Washington, Kibbe, Millard, Pritchard, Proctor and Scott voted "no" on the resolution. It was carried.

JAMES W. SHANKLIN HAS PASSED AWAY.

He Was One of the Makers of the State—
Had Been a Resident of Oakland for Thirty-two Years.

Another maker of the State has passed to his reward.

James W. Shanklin, a pioneer of California and one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Oakland, died early this morning at his residence, 1009 Madison street, at the advanced age of 78 years. He had been in feeble health for some time, and about two months ago he developed a sharp attack of asthma, but it was not considered especially dangerous until a few days since. Yesterday morning he was seized with a severe attack and sank rapidly till 6 o'clock this morning, when he passed away.

AN HONORED CITIZEN.

Mr. Shanklin's death removes an honored citizen who was active and influential in the affairs of this city for many years. Recently he has ceased to take a leading part in public matters because of age and failing health, but he retained his keen interest in everything affecting the general welfare to the last.

James W. Shanklin was born in Wayne county, New York, August 5, 1824. He came to California fifty-two years ago.

He was made 3 years of age, full of physical and mental vigor. The circumstances of his early life in Western New York developed a strong character. He worked on the farm. He prepared himself to teach school. He studied law in Rochester.

ARRIVAL IN CALIFORNIA.

He came to California by steamer and immediately went to the mines on the American River. There he engaged in mining and lumbering for a number of years. It was here that a lifelong friendship was made with John Conness, Frank Page, David C. Broderick and other makers of the State.

He was always active in politics. His activity was the natural result of the character of the man. His extensive knowledge of the political history of the country, his sound judgment, and the clear way in which he expressed himself made men glad to pay attention to what he had to say. He was one of the stalwarts who kept California within the Union.

THE CAMPAIGN OF 1879.

In 1864 Abraham Lincoln appointed him Receiver of the Land Office in San Francisco. A few years later he was appointed Register of the same office. In 1879 he was elected Surveyor-General of California, a position which his knowledge of land matters particularly qualified him to fill.

The campaign of 1879 was rather remarkable because of the fact that three Alameda men were elected to State offices—George C. Perkins, Governor, James V. Shanklin, Surveyor-General, and Fred M. Campbell, Superintendent of Public Schools.

RESIDENT OF OAKLAND.

Mr. Shanklin has been a resident of Oakland since 1870. He has served his city in both the Board of Education and City Council. He was also an active member of the First Presbyterian Church, where for a number of years he was an active trustee.

In his private life no better man lived. Any one in distress and his sincere sympathy and active help. He was always doing for others, and that in an entirely unselfish way. He was an iron man; strong of purpose and strong of will, yet as tender as any woman.

As a member of the City Council he promoted the construction of the sewer system of the city, and as a member of the Board of Education he did much to increase the efficiency of the public schools of the city. He also was prominent in bringing about the litigation to restore the water front to Oakland. Among other things, he advocated a number of reforms in the land laws, and was an unsparing critic of abuses in connection with the disposal of the public domain. In all respects he was an able, honest, aggressive citizen, who was also modest, kindly and charitable in private life.

He was a man who never hesitated to do his duty because it was disagreeable, and never shrank from following his conscience because it might be unpopular to do so.

He leaves a widow and two children. Edwin S. Shanklin, the mining engineer, is his son, and Miss Georgia K. Shanklin, his daughter. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock P. M. Sunday, from 1009 Madison street. The interment will be in Mountain View.

PANAMA COMPANY HOLDS A MEETING.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—An extraordinary meeting of the shareholders of the new Panama Canal Company today. President P. de la Roche, from the Consul-General of Colombia at Paris, setting forth that the company could not transfer its concession to another nation without the assent of Colombia, modifying the stipulations of articles 21 and 22 of the agreement. After a discussion during which it was urged that efforts should be made to keep the concession for France, the meeting adopted a resolution expressing approval of the attitude of the Board of Directors in view of the fact, to postpone entering into any engagement.

THE TURF.

Three favorites won in a row at Emeryville yesterday, but the talent ground and kicked because a few good things went wrong. Rushfields was the first favorite to land, and nothing but a well judged ride won the race for him. Troxler saved several lengths for Rushfields by turning into the stretch close to the rail and once on the inside he found the mud there softer and the footing surer than the middle of the track. The rest was easy, but Rushfields had to be kept on the move every inch of the way to win.

In the two-year-old race which followed, it looked as if Hudson, the talent choice in the betting, would surely win after the look he had at the start, but High Chant, who showed some class and wonderful gameness under a particularly vigorous ride from Woods which won the race for him. The start was struggling, with the two favorites, High Chant and Trotter, away poorly. Jockey Woods at once went to work on his mount, and sticking close to the rail, saved ground on the stretch turn and got his mount up in time to win from Hudson by half the length of his body.

Walrus, with "Long Shot" Conley in the saddle, was served up as the choice for the fourth race, and he made the third consecutive choice to bring home the goods. Six to five was an offer for a few moments, but not much money was accepted at those odds. When post time arrived there was very little to be found. Conley had to bring into play all his strength at finishing to land first from Lohrstar. Conable, who finished third, was claimed under the rules by Musto & Ruiz, owners of Malibu. The price, $955, is all the horse is worth.

FOUL PLAY ON OUTSIDE.

Vassallo, one of the most unfortunate horses in the Burns and Warehouse barn, was made first choice for the fifth race, but when the barrier was released the assistant starter had him by the head and that settled Vassallo's chances. Because Prior, an unfashionable rider, was the steersman for Foul Play, the bookmakers took liberties with the horse and offered as high as 20 to 1 against her. A few nibbled at that bait. Foul Play went to the front early in the race and remained there to the wire.

The last race furnished a pretty finish between five horses, all of which were nicely bunched, leaving the judges hardly a full length separating the winners.

Last night a meeting was held at the Oakland Bowling Alley and an organization formed. L. G. Burpee was elected president, R. S. McMullin vice president, W. W. Crane secretary, Geo. S. Laidie treasurer and Perry Hardenberg captain. After plans for the future had been adopted an adjournment was taken and the remainder of the evening taken up with practice bowling, in which all the members joined.

A merry party of ladies and gentlemen enjoyed the sport on three of the alleys for a large part of the evening.

The big store of C. J. Hesseman will soon have several teams on the alleys. The employees are organizing into clubs. Jimmie Hanna is the crack bowler of the store. He has the early morning hours sewn out with the fall of pins and the twist of his slow curve.

The famous "Sugar" team No. 1, made such a poor showing at the local tournament defeated the Golden City team No. 1, winner of the Washington's birthday trophy, last night in San Francisco and hung up a new coast record for team play. The Eugene rolled 598.

BOXING.

Johnnie Britt, the ex-amateur who defeated Toby Irwin before the Aene Club in a short time ago, will meet Tim Hegarty of Australia before the Yosemite Club in Mechanics' Pavilion, San Francisco, this evening. Britt is the favorite and is very confident of winning. To the writer it looks as if Britt has the most strength and courage, and if he mixes with the Australian as he promises he should win easily.

POLICEMAN STAHL'S CARELESS ACT

Shall the City Attorney report a bill illegal and then, as a member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners, recommend that it be paid by the Council? That is the question that is just now troubling Councilman J. S. Wixson of the Second Ward.

There was quite a discussion over the matter last evening at the meeting of the Finance Committee. The trouble arose over the bill for $250 presented by J. D. Lafontaine for a window broken by Policeman Stahl. Stahl shot a dog on Seventh Street between Washington Street and Broadway. The bullet went through the dog's head, struck the curb, glanced and went through the window of the saloon across the street. A bill was presented to the Police Commissioners, who sent it to the Board with the recommendation that it be paid. When it was read, Wixson asked City Attorney Johnson, who was present, if it were legal.

"As a civil, legal proposition," said Johnson, "it is not a valid claim, but as a matter of justice and right it should be paid."

"Let the Chief of Police pay it out of his emergency fund," suggested Schaffer. "Why not send it back to the Police Commissioners for a legal opinion," said Wixson. "The charter has arranged that none of that kind of bill should be paid by the Council, but the recommendation that it be paid. When it was read, Wixson asked City Attorney Johnson, who was present, if it were legal."

"As a civil, legal proposition," said Johnson, "it is not a valid claim, but as a matter of justice and right it should be paid."

Before Wixson began his protest, the bill had been recommended to be paid. He asked that the vote be reconsidered, but Chairman Courtney, the only other member of the Committee present, said there were not enough members to reconsider. He said it would be favorably recommended.

Wixson declared that there not being an emergency present, such action could not be taken.

President Schaffer tried to come to Wixson's rescue as an ex-officio member of all the committees, but Courtney ruled that he had no right to do so, and the bill was recommended for payment.

BRAIN FOOD

Is of Little Benefit Unless It Is Digested.

Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains.

For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in a severe, outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health.

FOLGER WILL TRY AGAIN.

R. Folger of the local club won last year's tournament and is the present State champion. He will try again this year and hopes to repeat his success of last year. W. P. Johnson and F. S. Stratton of the local club are entered and may also try for the honors.

As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of the food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion, and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables when the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years' experience has proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive which renders a digest may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a medicine, as they do not act on the bowels, nor on any particular organ but only on the food eaten. They supply what stomachs lack, peptic distaste, and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People with practices of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion, which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming an injurious habit, as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestive, caffeine, morphine and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a fifty-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

TELLS ABOUT FOURTH AVENUE

CITY ENGINEER MAKES A REPORT TO THE CITY COUNCIL.

At the meeting of the City Council last evening the following report from City Engineer Turner relative to the conditions of Fourth avenue was read and referred to the Committee of the Whole.

"On looking up records it appears I was somewhat misinformed about the Fourth avenue sewer. The outlet from the 24-inch pipe at Newton avenue is a 10-inch not an 8-inch pipe; the grades of the 24-inch pipe are steep, not flat; and the drainage basin about the lake is 277 acres, not 1,000 acres.

"After much controversy and after the Fourth avenue sewer has been built above Newton avenue, in accordance with the original plan on the combined system, that system was abandoned, the catch basin outlets were closed and the sewer was completed for house sewerage only. Reports by Morgan, Allard and Brandman, and Mason and Grunsky on this work are on file with the County Clerk. The matter is now settled by the actual construction.

"The only adequate plan that I can suggest for draining this region is to open the existing catch basin inlets and put in a relief outlet sewer three feet in diameter from the end of the 24-inch pipe at Newton avenue to Lake Merritt. By having the bottom of the relief outlet at the height of the present 10-inch sanitary sewer only, the surplus beyond the capacity of the 10-inch pipe in considerable rains would be discharged in the lake, and the sewerage mixed with it would be so diluted that no reasonable objection could be raised hereto. If objection be raised, however, as the region becomes more thickly settled, the sanitary sewer could be extended upward as an 8-inch pipe and the large sewer could be used entirely for storm water.

"It is impossible to carry off the storm water in the gutters. Taking the very moderate rate of run-off for this steep water shed of one-quarter inch per hour, the volume of storm water on Fourth avenue passing Newton avenue would be 43 cubic feet per second, and the volume going into the lake at East Eighteenth street, 69 cubic feet per second. The actual capacity of the gutter below East Nineteenth street is only about 21 cubic feet per second, or less than one-third of what is needed. The street is so narrow an crooked, besides having a car track on it, that to keep the water off the macadam would be an injury to the street as a thoroughfare. On East Eighteenth street, the gutter capacity is about 21 cubic feet per second and the flood volume about 69 cubic feet, or 48 cubic feet in excess, to be provided for by a sewer.

"The distance to the lake from the end of the 24-inch sewer at Newton avenue is about 2,100 feet by way of East Eighteenth street and about 2,650 feet by way of East Nineteenth street. The Nineteenth street route, therefore, require a cut about 27 feet deep, while the Eighteenth street route would have the great disadvantage of being over deep mud. I am inclined to think the Nineteenth street route the better, and requiring piling only at the outlet; and the cut may not prove more expensive than shoring and shovelling the mud, and it certainly would be a safer location. Better and cheaper than digging would be a route across private grounds, skirting the high lands; and it may not be difficult to get a right of way. I should judge the probable cost—this is not an exact estimate—in the neighborhood of $10,000. The fourth avenue sewer above Newton avenue cost $9,178, and the assessment amounted to about $16 for an ordinary fifty-foot lot. The cost for the sewer above Newton avenue was about $10,000. The fourth avenue sewer above Newton avenue cost $9,178, and the assessment amounted to about $16 for an ordinary fifty-foot lot. The cost for the sewer above Newton avenue was about $10,000.

"The possible objection to sewage that is only of the order of one-tenth as dense as it ordinarily is going into a salt water lake in the cool weather of winter is more sentimental than real. An argument might even be maintained that the arrangement suggested is fully as sanitary as the present one. Authorities agree, and experiments show, that the water first run off with organic matter is a rule is fouler with organic matter bacteria than ordinary sewage; and the first run-off would be taken by the ten-inch sewer and would not reach the lake at all. My opinion is, after considering the matter, that it is unreasonable to require these people, for the present, at least, to go to the expense of constructing a sanitary sewer up Fourth avenue above Newton avenue in order to keep a small amount of very dilute sewage going into the lake at intervals during the winter time."

A merry fight is going on over possession of the Merritt house, which was in the hands of a detainer suit which is on trial before Judge Hall in the Superior Court. Edison Hazen is suing for $100 unpaid rent and for possession of the premises and furniture from Mrs. E. M. Clifford. Some time ago Hazen advertised the hotel for sale. Mrs. Clifford saw the advertisement, inspected the hotel and declared she would rent it. She paid $20 cash to bind the agreement, the balance was to be paid later. The price was $2,500. Subsequently a payment of $1,000 was made. The balance, $1,500, was to be paid when money arrived here from the East in December. The money did not arrive, and Mrs. Clifford refused to pay the balance. Hazen objected to the deal because the dining-room was not under control. This involved a mortgage of $1,000 paid had been refunded to enable the purchaser to operate the dining-room with. The mortgage was given to Mrs. Hazen, though the right was due to her husband, the plaintiff in the case. There was a credit of $100 also in another transaction, leaving a balance of $2,300. Rent was paid only for the first month. Default has since been made. It is claimed that the defendant is pocketing the receipts and refusing to liquidate or surrender the premises.

JEROME A. FILLMORE.

The late Jerome A. Fillmore belonged to a type peculiar to American industrial development. It is such men as he that have brought industrial organization to such perfection in this country and made applied energy the dominant element in our national fabric. They are the builders of empire, the conquerors of opportunity.

Had J. A. Fillmore not been a man of prodigious disposition, liberal to a fault and soft hearted as a woman, he would probably be alive today, ranking with so-called "captains of industry," with millions at his command. But he was unselish by nature, and had no desire to accumulate. He strove and wrought for others, and having served his turn, passes away, like a discarded and useless piece of worn out machinery. His life has its lessons; the end is his moral.

In all his life Fillmore never lost the consciousness that he was a workman. A raw country lad, he entered the railroad service when railroading was not the highly organized and complex business it is today. He possessed the natural adaptability of the American boy, and native capacity, and was endowed with mental grasp and keen perception. He tried to do whatever came to his hand better than anybody else, and because he made himself useful he rose. But he always saw his employer's interest and not his own. His energy and ability were devoted to the task of building up for others, and he neither made nor sought opportunity for himself. Less able and useful men, infinitely less generous and humane, reaped the profit.

Mr. Fillmore never lost touch with the laboring force of the great railroad system he managed. His sense of kinship with them remained to the last. It was valuable, too, in dealing with labor disputes and settling the knotty complications which arise between employers and employees. While he was a loyal and determined defender of the interests of his employers, Mr. Fillmore always dealt fairly and kindly with the working men. He never deceived them or held out hopes which could not be realized. He understood their position, comprehended their mental attitude, and sympathized with their feelings. His large sympathies and his complete mastery of the subject, coupled with his thorough understanding of the character of the men with whom he had to deal, enabled Mr. Fillmore to successfully cope with many trying situations. At times he was compelled to do things that revolted his sense of justice, but they came in the line of duty and he did them like a man, and he frankly told the workmen just what had to be done. Whatever the issue they respected and admired him. His loyalty to his employers they regarded as a matter of course, while his justice and kindness impressed their feelings. One of the prime factors in the industrial superiority of this country is that the managers have generally been men of the type of Fillmore, who rose from the ranks of labor and always remained in touch and sympathy with workmen, but of course the great majority of them have not possessed such generous natures or been so freckled with what they earned.

As a man, apart from his career as a railroad manager, Mr. Fillmore's memory is a legacy to his friends—he had them by hundreds. He held nothing back from those he loved. The blood ran warm and red through his veins, and it never ran slow or grew cold with a sordid thought or a mean motive. His faults were those inherent in a man of abounding ability and a social temperament, and they were so closely akin to lovable traits and humanizing virtues that all who knew him granted absolution unasked. Heaven is charitable to the frailties of a brave and true man.

THE MODOC TRIAL.

The first one of the Modoc lynchings to be tried has been acquitted—a result easily foretold. It is a miscarriage of justice, of course, but it simply illustrates anew the fact that laws are inoperative when opposed to public sentiment. While the trial has been abortive, the prosecutions have brought punishment to the lynchers and to the community that condones and upholds their acts. The accused men have been impoverished in the effort to escape conviction and the county has been practically bankrupted. In addition, it has been given a bad name from which it will not recover in years. So the crime will not be entirely unavenged after all.

In reviewing the incidents of the trial one cannot fail to be impressed by the fact that there must be some underlying reason why the community should be so strongly in favor of the lynchings. That has been the acknowledged condition of public sentiment from the start. Public sentiment where all the parties and all the attending circumstances are known must go for something in making up an estimate of the case. It appears that the most substantial citizens of Modoc county are in sympathy with the lynchings. It cannot be said either that the majority of the inhabitants of the county are ignorant ruffians, for Modoc has not hitherto gained any notoriety for lawlessness. Neither political nor religious prejudices are involved in the matter. The community appears to be a normal one of a semi-frontier character. How, then, are we to account for the lynchings and the state of local sentiment?

In looking over the matter dispassionately, the methods of the prosecution do not seem to have been the wisest that could have been pursued. Beyond doubt the deputies of the Attorney General performed their arduous and disagreeable duty to the best ability and according to their best judgment; but mistakes were made. A general newspaper assault from the outside was made on the county to compel a conviction. Men were attacked directly or impugned by implication for refusing to back the prosecution, and a good deal of mock sympathy was poured out to make the lynching appear more cruel and pathetic than it really was. All this savoring of intimidation and persecution. It aroused public sentiment in other parts of the State, but it reacted the community in which alone it could be effective. The arid justice showed himself to be an ignorant imbecile ass who was himself a violent partisan of the prosecution and made himself ridiculous by foolish harangues from the bench and undignified squabbles with the defendants' attorneys. The blustering and swaggering were a disgrace to a judicial proceeding, and the prosecution seems far from guiltless in this respect. There is a deep significance in the remark of one juror that he voted to acquit "because he didn't believe in Modoc county being run by people down below."

However the trial and its results have their lessons.

The last day from South Carolina indicates that the Tillman breed is an unadulterated strain.

WATER RATES NOT INCREASED

TRUSTEES OF HAYWARDS DECIDE UPON CHARGES NOW IN EFFECT.

HAYWARDS, Feb. 28.—A futile attempt was made by E. D. Warren, superintendent of the San Lorenzo Water Company, to have the Town Trustees allow a company a one-third increase in the price of water used for street sprinkling purposes. The matter came up at Wednesday night's meeting of the Town Trustees and a lively discussion took place before the matter was finally settled. The board decided to allow the water rates to stand the same as they have been during the past year. During the discussion Mr. Warren stated that it was not the intention of his company to impose any exorbitant rates on the town, and it had selected the street water on which to increase the price, as it would make the least drain on the taxpayers. He claimed, on the $3000 invested by the San Lorenzo Water Company in its plant and system, it was only realizing about 3 per cent interest. This, Mr. Warren said, was only one-half the interest allowed corporations on their investments, by the State laws. His argument, however, was of no avail. The Board would not hear of a rate of any character and the question was finally settled by passing the old rates.

The Board decided to postpone the matter of advertising the coming town election until the next meeting. It will then have the required amount of time in which to place a notice before the voters announcing the election.

The question of improving Railroad avenue was brought up and it was finally settled that $25 would be expended in grading and rolling the thoroughfare. The street has long been a nuisance and the improvements will be welcomed by residents of that vicinity. Later the Board will have the street macadamized. After the matter of improving the street had been settled, the board adjourned, there being no further business to come before the meeting.

ENTERTAINED GRAND OFFICER.

Wednesday evening Haywards Parlor of Native Daughters entertained the Grand Marshal, Mrs. Delmonico, and her suite at the Native Sons' Hall. Mrs. Baker was accompanied by Miss May Wilkie, Mrs. Steinback, Miss Lizzie Douglas, Miss Emma Delway and Miss Sawyer, who are members of Alpha and Beta Vista Parlors of San Francisco. The evening was spent in social amusements and most enjoyable time was passed by all. Haywards Parlor of Native Daughters has been in existence but one year. It celebrated only a few days ago the first anniversary of its organization. The members were greatly pleased by the visit of their guests and the ladies of the parlor spoke highly of Haywards Parlor and especially of the wonderful progress made by the order in the first year of its existence.

When the Grand President left she was presented with a beautiful bouquet of daisies.

HARD TIMES SOCIAL.

A "hard times" social was given last night by the Rose Rebekah Lodge of Haywards. It was first intended that the affair should be a minstrel show, but owing to the lack of time the program was changed. The social was one of the largest affairs of the year. It was attended by a packed house and there was an endless amount of enjoyment. One rule which brought to the lodge but small return was that a fine of 5 cents be paid by any one who was caught wearing a white collar or any article of jewelry or dress that might pertain to affluence. The crowd was a hard looking lot. All sorts of dresses were exhibited without a sign of embarrassment, and to a person not acquainted with the nature of the occasion it would have appeared like a dance in a country swept by famine. Financially and socially the affair was a large success and the ladies are greatly pleased over the result.

DRAINING LAKE CHABOT.

Lake Chabot, the water supply of the Contra Costa Water Company, has reached the high water mark, and as a result San Leandro creek is now a rushing, roaring river. Yesterday morning the water in the lake reached the highest point possible. When this point was reached the San Leandro creek began to rise, carrying river. ## FUNERAL OF J. A. FILLMORE WILL BE HELD TOMORROW.

Popular Railroad Man Had a Host of Friends in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Jerome A. Fillmore, the former popular manager of the Pacific system of the Southern Pacific Company, will be buried tomorrow. There will be a great outpouring of the friends of the deceased and the occasion will testify to his extraordinary popularity. It will also afford an expression of the deep personal sympathy that was felt for Mr. Fillmore.

The funeral will be held at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon at the home on Gough street. The Rev. Dr. Foute, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, and the Rev. John Hemphill of Calvary Presbyterian Church will conduct the ceremonies. The body will be privately cremated in Odd Fellows' Cemetery. The following intimate friends will act as honorary pallbearers: John Martin, A. Chesbrough, John W. Mackay, Horace G. Platt, J. B. Wright, Newton H. Foster, J. H. Wallace and John Rosenfeld.

Both Dr. Foute and Dr. Hemphill were warm personal friends of Mr. Fillmore and they will officiate as a mark of their individual feeling for the dead. John A. Martin, President of the North Shore Railroad (formerly the North Pacific Coast Railway), of which Mr. Fillmore had recently been appointed general manager, has directed of the funeral arrangements.

Mr. Fillmore's death has caused universal regret in all ranks of society. He had a phenomenally wide acquaintance and a multitude of friends. In the highest and lowest ranks of society there is a sense of bereavement.

and a feeling that fate had dealt hardly and unjustly with a strong good man. All day yesterday friends in large numbers called at the family residence, 2004 Gough street, bearing flowers and messages of sympathy and condolence. From all over the country came telegrams from prominent railroad men expressing their sorrow and sympathy. Mr. Fillmore's recognized ability as a railroad man had earned him the respect of the railway fraternity, while his gentleness and generosity had endeared him to all he came in contact with.

"We feel very keenly the death of Mr. Fillmore," said John Martin, President of the North Shore road, "and our stockholders realize that they have met with an almost irreparable loss. His experience has been invaluable to the board of directors has today adopted resolutions of regret at his untimely death."

Yesterday the following dispatch was received from President H. G. Bay of the Union Pacific by General Agent D. W. Hitchcock:

"Very sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Fillmore. Please convey my condolence to his family and friends."

John W. Mackay was one of Fillmore's intimates. Once the millionaire sent the free-handed railroad man a check for $10,000 as a compliment because of some delicate service rendered at the time of the death of Mr. Mackay's son. The check was promptly turned over to Mrs. Fillmore. Yesterday Mr. Mackay said:

"Fillmore was a good, whole-souled gentleman, and I shall miss him very much."

Many others will miss him as much and mourn him as sincerely.

All of Mr. Fillmore's intimates have stories to relate of his generosity and kindness. A friend in need could get the last dollar, and a railroad man in distress never appealed to him in vain. L. L. Brownell tells this story which illustrates Fillmore's character:

"We were making a tour of inspection in his car, and at Tucson a broken-down conductor sent us word asking for a pass to San Francisco. Fillmore sent back word that a recent regulation prevented him from giving the pass. Then he took out his pocket watch and said, 'I'll give him a lift as a man.' He had, underneath an affection of brusqueness, the tenderest heart I ever knew."

General Manager E. Dickman of the Union Pacific system arrived yesterday in his private car, having arranged to occupy Mr. Fillmore's house for the next three months. He expressed his grief at the news of the death of his friend. Mr. Fillmore had completed all preparations to move today to San Francisco for the summer, with the intention of being near the scene of his new duties and with the hope that the change of location would be beneficial to his health. Mr. Dickman has generously offered the use of the house to the bereaved family for an indefinite period. It is uncertain whether they will now go to San Rafael.

Mr. Fillmore married Miss Mary Loefer, daughter of a prominent merchant of Hackettstown, New York, in 1871. She and one of her daughters are assisting to his friends to know that he did not leave them unprotected. He had $20,000 insurance on his life, $10,000 in the Southern Pacific Employees' Association, $2,000 in the Knights of Honor, and the remainder in old-line companies.

But his death will be heavily on the old father and other relatives, to whom he gave freely in his offhand way. His father, who lives in San Francisco, is very old and has looked to him for support in his declining years. His immediate family consists of his widow and a daughter, Miss Jessie Fillmore, in the State he has three brothers living, George W. Fillmore, a conductor, in Oakland; William Fillmore, a conductor, in Los Angeles, and Edward Fillmore, employed at the Union Iron Works. There are two married sisters living in New York State. Mr. Fillmore was born in Chronaca, county, New York, on April 15, 1845. He attended a seminary until November, 1866, when, residing in a coal-mining town, he began as a brakeman on a gravel train in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railway. He was promoted to the position of foreman and assistant superintendent of construction on the same system, and built a double-track line from Washington, N. J., to Lehigh, Pa.

Following this, he superintended the building of a branch of the Morris and Essex Railway to Dover, Del. Called West in 1871 to become assistant division superintendent of the Western division of the Union Pacific line, he made his executive power felt so powerfully that he was called in November, 1883, to the position of assistant to the general superintendent of the Central Pacific system. In 1885 he was promoted to division superintendent of the Sacramento and Oregon division, and in 1888 he became master of transportation of the Central Pacific. Two years later and for thirteen years, he was general superintendent of the Southern Pacific Company, being promoted to the high position of manager of the Pacific division of this system.

In June, last year, Charles M. Hayes, then president of the Southern Pacific Company, retired him on a pension of $50 a month. Subsequently the road passed into the hands of the Harriman syndicate and Hayes was forced out. Then it is stated that the pension was reduced to $30 a month. The whole business humiliated Mr. Fillmore's pride and broke his spirit. Recently he was made general manager of the North Shore Railroad at $20 a month, and had just assumed the duties of his office.

When a boy, Mr. Fillmore was reared by his uncle, Luther Fillmore, one of the pioneer railroad men of the Coast. Luther Fillmore gave the young man his first lessons in railroad.

INTERESTING NEWS NOTES FROM TOWN OF ELMHURST.

ELMHURST, Feb. 28.—William Carterlin of Eastyards was in Elmhurst several days ago in business. Samuel Galbreath will open a new grocery store at the corner of Orchard avenue and Orange street within a short time.

COULDN'T DO IT.
Milk Diet Failed.

Food that will actually lift one out of a sick bed is worth knowing of. A Chicago lady writes: "I want to tell of a positive cure Grape-Nuts Food has made in a case that was considered almost hopeless."

"I know you do not look upon Grape-Nuts as a medicine but, inasmuch as the food certainly does build up worn out systems, it seems to me it is closely allied to a tonic. Now about the cure."

"Last Spring a dear girl friend fell ill and was taken to one of the hospitals, but weeks before entering the hospital she had been able to take nothing but milk to nourish her, all other foods distressed the stomach so much that she tried to live on the milk alone."

"The doctor in the hospital endeavored to keep her alive with broth and other food, but her stomach refused to retain anything but milk, and very little of that at a time."

"I worked away at the resident physician until he consented to my taking her home to see what the change would do for her. The poor child was so very weak and nervous and so frail that I felt quite dubious about the outcome, nevertheless I knew enough about Grape-Nuts Food, which I intended to give her, to feel that it would bring her out. After she had rested a little while I warmed some milk and poured it over a tablespoonful of Grape-Nuts and persuaded her to take it. She did so with fear and trembling, but she did not expect to keep the food down. After giving her the food I started to read her a story, and although it was an interesting one, she fell asleep. When she finally awoke her first words were, 'Did I really keep the Grape-Nuts?'"

"She had kept them but could scarcely believe it. After two or three hours I gave her a little more with the same good result. Gradually and cautiously I increased the amount until after a few days she was able to eat a suicer full with no bad effects."

"She lived on Grape-Nuts entirely and gained strength so rapidly that she soon recovered, and now recommends Grape-Nuts to all her friends. She says she would be glad to have anyone who is suffering from stomach trouble write her, and she will tell them what Grape-Nuts Food has done for her, and how grateful she is to the man who had the foresight to manufacture a food already digested so that weak stomachs can take it. Her name is Lillie M. Gestab, 4116 Wabash Ave., Chicago."

"A clergyman of our acquaintance eats a dish of Grape-Nuts before preparing his sermon. I asked him once if he got inspired from the food. He said, 'Not only that, but it seems to clear my mind and make my 'thirds' and 'fourths' come much more quickly. Just think about one's stomach not having anything to digest. Grape-Nuts at all, they have done the digesting themselves, and all we have to do is to tickle the palate by swallowing them.' This same gentleman assured me that he would give a dispensation with any article of food on the table than Grape-Nuts."

"We eat the food regularly with something like a fine fresh or canned fruit added. We call it our 'tonic.' My husband joins in thanking you heartily for its manufacture." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

TALK ABOUT THE TRANSIT

MANAGER KELLY REQUESTED TO APPEAR BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL.

The ordinance authorizing the Oakland Transit Company to abandon its tracks on East Twelfth street and Park avenue was again discussed by the City Council's Street Railroad Committee last evening and again held over to allow Manager Kelly to appear before the Council next Monday night and explain why the San Pablo cars were not all run down to the foot of Broadway.

Wixson said that the street should be improved and it could not be done until the tracks were removed.

Bon called attention to the tracks on Telegraph avenue, saying that it was deplorable and that the law required the company to keep the street in good condition between the tracks.

"But it says as good as the rest of the street," said Wixson, "and that is the case now."

"It is our duty to fix our part of the street," said Ruch, "then we can go after them. We should get the Telegraph avenue sewer in and then fix the street."

"We can get more out of the company by friendly requests than we can in any other way," said Cuvellier, "and I move that we recommend the passage of the ordinance to print. In the meantime we can see Manager Kelly."

"I hope that motion will prevail," said Schaffer.

He is in fair condition, and I suggest the Council direct the City Attorney to draw up a stipulation of what they want. The franchise is a valuable one and the San Pablo cars should be continued to First street for the accommodation of the patrons who work along the water front."

"The City Attorney has reported that we can't compel them to do this," said Cuvellier.

"But we can compel them to keep their tracks in the Seventh Ward in good condition," said Cuvellier.

Then he complained that the company had recently painted its cars yellow and painted the word "San Pablo" on the side. He said this was confusing to strangers.

"Let the City Attorney draw up a stipulation," said Schaffer, "and have Kelly appear and explain why the company will not do as we wish. We have an ordinance in print regulating the speed of cars to eight miles an hour. Non-compliance with this ordinance is a misdemeanor."

"City Attorney Johnson said he was willing to reduce the limit to eight miles an hour, but that even if Kelly signed it, it would have no legal effect and would not be binding in any particular, since the franchise was only to Fourteenth street."

"Then," said Schaffer, "if they won't continue to First street, we can make the petition to remove the car tracks on Commerce street to the center of that thoroughfare."

Manager Kelly and City Engineer Turner reported that the tracks were now on a private right of way.

TRUCKMAN'S THUMB INJURED.

THIEF SHOOTS A MAN AND FLEES

FRED WINCHESTER WOUNDED WHILE TRYING TO CAPTURE BURGLAR.

Fred Winchester, an employee of Gabriel Moraga, who conducts the "Fish Ranch" road house in the Contra Costa hills, was shot by a burglar yesterday morning. Winchester sleeps in a shed on the place. Yesterday he was attracted by a noise in the saloon and went to investigate in the early morning darkness. He surprised a burglar at work and the two grappled. While they were struggling the thief drew a revolver and fired, the bullet going through Winchester's left arm. The latter staggered backward and the thief fled in the darkness.

"I had not been for Winchester's bravery," said Moraga today, "the entire place would have been robbed. The thief succeeded only in tearing off the back of the shot machine."

"I remember now that late yesterday afternoon a stranger came up to the bar, bought a couple of drinks and walked around the room examining things curiously. When he examined the slot machine I asked him what he was doing and he said that he wanted to see how a thing like that was made. As I remember him, he was a man of medium height, weighing about 150 pounds. He had a red Vandyke beard and was well dressed. His hat was a black slouch."

"The Sheriff of Contra Costa county is without a clue. Winchester will soon recover."

GOVERNMENT WILL BRING SUIT AGAINST THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Attorney General Knox Has Sent Out Instructions to Bring an Action to Dissolve the Corporation.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—Attorney-General Knox has sent Joseph Call, an attorney of this city, instructions to bring actions in the United States Circuit Court against several large corporations doing business in California, for alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Although Mr. Call will not say so, it is generally understood that the proceedings will be leveled at the railroad consolidations.

The corporations to be affected in the proposed new litigation will, it is said, include the Southern Pacific Company of Kentucky, the Southern Pacific Railroad Company of California, the Central Pacific Railroad Company, the Oregon and California Railroad Company—that is, the Southern Pacific line in Oregon—the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company.

It was provided in the charters of the railroad companies that are to be defendants in the new litigation that they were to construct, equip and operate telegraph lines. This agreement is stated to have been violated in letter and in spirit, all of the corporations to be cited having signed, sealed and delivered to the Western Union Telegraph Company, a monopoly, exclusive rights and privileges that are not and cannot be open to competition.

"I will neither deny nor affirm that I have been instructed by Attorney-General Knox to proceed against certain railroad corporations in this State engaged in interstate commerce," said Mr. Call. "I do, however, believe, and in fact know that it is the intention of the Department at Washington to rigidly enforce the Sherman Act that prohibits the combination of any railroads to monopolize the commerce in part of the United States."

It is said that suits will be brought to dissolve the corporations charged with violating the law. They will be in line with the proceedings instigated against the Northern Pacific and Great Northern merger.

DAIRYMEN WIN THEIR FIGHT.

WILL NOT BE FORCED TO RETIRE FROM THE CITY LIMITS.

Without appearing again before the City Council, the dairymen of the annexed district last night won their fight to avoid being forced from within the city limits. A communication from Councilman Durbin, one of the committee appointed to investigate the matter, was read and upon motion of Wilson and by unanimous vote the protest against the dairies was denied.

Councilman's Durbin's report follows: "In line with my duty as one of your committee to investigate the merits and demerits of the petitions and protests relative to extending the ordinances governing the keeping of cows to include the annexed district, I visited those places that seemed to be most vitally interested.

Owing to the season I found them probably at their worst. In one instance the condition was not to be complained of; in others, there was not that state of cleanliness that one would consider ideal by any means, but rigid supervision by the Health Officer or our Veterinary would have a beneficial effect and go far to remedy the defects. This fact people understand that ordinance No. 132 is not a dead letter and that the officers referred to are to be the judges as to whether the premises are kept in its condition or not, and that failure to comply with their orders will result in application of the penalty as provided for in that ordinance, and the conditions will be vastly improved.

"In some of the places, owing to the heavy rains, there is seepage from the corral into one branch. Cemetery creek, also into Temescal creek, but owing to the volume of water in those creeks, I do not think this fact as bad as it seems at first sight, and even this objection could be easily overcome by a proper system of drains and at comparatively small expense.

"In the course of my investigations I interviewed the neighbors (picked at random) of each of the dairies visited, asked them to talk freely, and in not a single instance did I find one who objected to the dairy in his own neighborhood. I found that in all but one instance the people had ranges of from ten to sixty acres, with a moderate number of cows, not more than kept on the same acreage in town. I found, further, that in all but one instance the people owned their own homes, and had a considerable acreage, renting additional land adjoining for grazing purposes. In one case, the party owned the improvements, but had the land sixty acres under lease for one year. There are other places, not visited, which would be affected by the ordinance, but I am confident that two miles or more distant from any of the dairies, where the pasture lands, acres in extent, are leased for long terms.

"I find that most of your petitioners moved into the neighborhood of the dairies long after the latter were established, and knowing then, as they did, the conditions, it seems to be in bad form for them to now complain, particularly when the application of the ordinance would remove the only means of livelihood of the people complained of and would the rule found in the ordinance be applied, and knowing then, as they did, the conditions, it seems to be in bad form for them to now complain, particularly when the application of the ordinance would remove the only means of livelihood of the people complained of and would the rule found in the ordinance be applied.

"In view of these facts and the failure on my part to find one near neighbor who protested, I am not in favor of extending the ordinance to include the annexed territory at this time, but am in favor of empowering our Health Officer or Veterinary to supervise the dairies and enforce the provisions of ordinance No. 132."

WATER TAKEN BY THE SPRING VALLEY.

The Spring Valley Water Company has just bought out the Suburban Water Company for $2,500,000. At the meeting of the San Francisco Supervisors the following letter was read:

"To the Board of Supervisors, San Francisco—Gentlemen: The Board of Directors of the Spring Valley Water Works authorized Mr. Schussler, its chief engineer, to say to your honorable Board that the properties, rights and works now being used for supplying water to San Francisco, connected with the Alameda creek system, located on the Calaveras, San Antonio, Laguna and Alameda creeks, will be decided to the Spring Valley Water Works as soon as the deeds can be made. Respectfully yours, CHARLES WEBB HOWARD, President."

This means the transfer of the possessions of the Suburban Water Company, the directors of this company were announced as C. de Guzman, M. B. Kallgren, William F. Hillebrand, A. S. Baldwin and P. P. Howard. The officers were given as M. B. Kallgren, president; C. de Guzman, vice president; Union Trust Company of San Francisco, treasurer, and P. P. Howard, secretary.

To a question Engineer Schussler said: "The cost, enumerated in the deeds, of the property of the Suburban Water Company, situated within the Spring Valley Water Works, is in the aggregate $2,500,000."

"The land in Alameda county," explained Schussler, "lies in three groups. In the first there are 5,000 acres in the Calaveras valley, about five miles south of San Jose station. The second group, the key to the whole tract, and the water-sheets are between 14,000 and 15,000 acres of the Simol and San Antonio ranches. The third group contains 900 acres and is called the Laguna tract."

Engineer Schussler went on to explain that the company was getting 10,000,000 gallons of filtered water a day from the Alameda sources, that in summer it would be getting 15,000,000 gallons a day and that the possibility were easily developable to 60,000,000 a day.

WILL PAY TEACHERS WITH COUNTY MONEY.

The following circular has been issued: "Office of the County Superintendent of Schools, February 27, 1902. If your order on the County Superintendent for your February salary, brought by yourself or sent or forwarded from the office of the City Superintendent of Schools, is in the office of the County Superintendent by 12 o'clock M. on Saturday, March 1, you will be able to get your money at 12 o'clock M. on Tuesday, March 4."

Regulations will not be drawn and ready before this date. Hereafter, excepting last month's orders, were received two days before pay-day. We need two working days, at least, between the time of receiving the orders and issuing the regulations. Every effort will be made to give you your money just as soon as it can be done. T. G. RAWFORD, County Superintendent Schools."

NO ACTION ON THE SALOON PROTEST

No action was taken by the City Council's License Committee last evening on the application of T. Nunes for a license to conduct a saloon at 13th Center street, at the corner of Sixteenth. A vigorous protest against the granting of the license had been filed by property owners of that vicinity, but when the matter was called up it was found that the License Inspector had not endorsed it on the ground that there was not a sufficient number of valid signatures on the petition. It was therefore laid over at the request of Nunes.

The principal protest against the proposed saloon was as follows:

"We, the undersigned property holders, owning property within two blocks of the corner of Center and Sixteenth streets, Oakland, hereby make formal protest to your honorable body against the granting of a license to any one for the purpose of conducting a saloon on the corner of Center and Sixteenth streets, Oakland."

"We hereby respectfully submit that the establishment of said saloon in this locality would tend to the depreciation of the value of adjoining property and the detriment of improvements in that locality, thereby injuring our interests."

The protest was signed by N. M. Alexander, property owner Peralta and Eighteenth streets; C. Sullivan, corner Sixteenth and Cypress streets; P. Lho, 1239 Cypress street; H. Wilkens, 1316 Center street; Laura S. Templeton, 1428 Sixteenth street; Mrs. Christina Segner, 1554 Center street; Laura M. Brubson, 1255 Center street; Mrs. M. Wilson, 1251 Center street; Mrs. James Chittim, 1248 Center street; P. E. Hyatt, 1145 Seventeenth street.

It was recommended that the rebate of $250 on a holder's license asked for by E. B. Jordan be granted.

The following renewals of licenses were recommended: Snocovich & Lauter, 4210 Center street; John Hansen, 365 Twelfth street; Thos. Gier Company, 915 Washington street; J. A. Adams, 520 Broadway; Tossati & Quisly, 117 Seventh street.
